

Heaven in Business – South Jersey

February 17, 2018

This month's encouraging Heaven in Business meeting was all about being God's love letter. We are addressed to co-workers, employees, and supervisors. The question we asked ourselves is if we are actually sending them a love letter or junk mail? The team discussed what love letters and junk mail look like in the workplace. Love letters are filled with love, joy, forgiveness, honor, calmness, dependability, humbleness, care, politeness, and commitment. Junk mail is filled with rudeness, un-forgiveness, judgment, pride, dishonor, disrespect, entitlement, and anger. The letters we send out in our workplace can affect more people than we are aware of. The core value for either form of letter is who am I working for? If we are doing everything for God and to build the kingdom we will send out love letters; however, if our core value is off and we don't understand who we are working for we could end up sending out junk mail.

We also listened to Joel Osteen's message #388. His message encourages us to not have a destination mindset. To always have the attitude that there is room to grow and get better at what we do. To question if we are missed if we aren't at work or if we are replaceable? He talks about not presenting problems, but presenting solutions. This month's extended challenge comes from the message. The challenge is to spend an hour a day on one subject for three years. The results for those who have previously committed to this challenge are that they become an expert on that subject in those three years.

Continue to make joyful declarations over yourself and workplace this month and be aware of your joy level. We look forward to your testimonies!

The following scriptures were discussed in this month's teaching: Matthew 7:12, Romans 12:9-18, Psalm 59:17, Proverbs 59:17, Matthew 22:37-40.
