

Heaven In Business – South Jersey

July 21, 2018

This month we were excited to talk about the amazing testimonies that came from getting involved with our communities, both at home and at work. We were encouraged by all the different amazing things God is doing through us and the many divine opportunities we are experiencing.

We focused on how every career for those who follow Christ is a divine calling, an assignment from heaven, and a part of God's grand design for their life. God is the CEO of the universe and has personally assigned you to your career because it is part of His grand design for your life. We asked ourselves to reflect on this truth and how that influences our attitude at work.

The meeting continued with talking about our core values. What are the things that are non-negotiables for your life that you adhere to regardless whether they help or hurt you in the marketplace? The HIBSJ Team came up with examples of core values they have for themselves at work;

- I will make people a priority over projects
- There is no situation where there is no answer
- The chaotic doesn't influence me, I influence the chaotic
- My work ethic influences everyone around me
- I carry God's favor
- My coworkers are blessed because I am blessed
- I was born for such a time as this
- I will not settle for safe
- I will be positive
- My voice is powerful
- I will give others around me opportunities
- I will make everyone feel welcomed

Challenge yourself to think about your core values at work. Speak them over yourself! Carry the Hope of Jesus into your workplace. Pray for the abundance and hold on to the more than enough mindset.

Love & God's Blessings,
